“ I remember like yesterday, the first day you moved into that beautifully built house next to ours... How happy, Elliot and Ben were to have someone their age to play with, along with the cast of neighbors that became “the Crew” In our happy cul-de sac ❤️
Soooo close to it, you all were!!!!
You were the social butterfly and the laughter that ignited so much happiness🌸
You will be truly missed 🌹

“ I met Lexi a year ago or so. I got very close with her. She was so caring, loving and always was there to help anyone who needed it. I know she was looking forward to a lot of things in life. This breaks my heart to hear of her passing. The world lost a very good person with an amazing testimony. I grew to love Lexi quickly and we talked or texted everyday. Rest in Heaven sweet girl. Until we meet again!! I am praying for your family (mom, dad, and siblings). I also will continue praying for all your friends. I know you left an imprint in the hearts of many.

“ I remember when I first met Lexi at Lindsey's house when we were little kids, she was eating sour cream out of the tub as a snack and I knew we would be friends. We didn't talk as we got older but I will always remember her as one of my childhood besties ❤️ rest in peace 🕊️

“ This has always been my favorite picture. To this day this has been framed and on my dresser. She was like a sister to me, even when we didn't see each other for a few years. I love you Alexis. I miss you so much. I hope you are riding 4wheelers up there ❤️👍

“ Alexa shared these pics and videos with me. I thought you may like to have them. The girls enjoyed her so so much growing up and she was a joy to have around. We are so very sorry.
