“ we would go chase storms together when i was younger, i found it so fun and scary at the same time. With the beating rain on the windows the wind blowing the car around, listening to the tornado sirens going off in the distance even though there was nothing in sight but storm clouds and rain. Its one of my most cherished memories that i still think about today, the times we had our own thrilling adventures together.. you where taken to young mom i walk past where you left us everyday. you're still here to me, I'll see you soon

“ I am sooo sad to hear this. My oldest son, Michael, "dated" Laura when they were in Jr high/early high school. Have many pictures of them together. Such a sweet girl. She kept in contact with me for years. Even bringing her infant son to meet me. Shanda, I am so sorry for your loss. I have lived in Lowell for 8 years now and wish I would have known she was so close.
