

Luis Lopez

October 18, 1952 - July 26, 2023

Daddy, you will forever be missed. Being a single dad to 3 young girls definitely wasn't common, as we were growing up. Most parents weren't keen on letting their kids come by, play, or stay the night, but you ALWAYS embraced being a single dad. You did the best that you could for us dad, and then some.

Thank you for your unconditional love, for your work ethic, for your kindness, and your generosity towards anyone who crossed your path. Thank you for being a great friend and grandpa. Thank you for setting us straight when we needed it. Daddy, thank you for your craziness. It fondly lives on in each one of us.

Daddy, you were the very BEST, and we can't wait until we see you again in Heaven! I hope you're singing in God's Almighty Choir. Your voice and your laugh were so beautiful, and will be missed, but never forgotten.

Your loving daughters Nina, Christina, and Amanda

“ Mr. Lopez, you will for sure be missed. You were one of the best fathers I knew. As the girls’ babysitter, I learned so much from you and felt like part of your family, like a big sister to Nina, Chrissy and Amanda. I have always cherished those memories and will forever. The Heavens will be even brighter with you there. May you RIP and your girls find comfort knowing that you are in the hands of God and will forever be their protector. 😊🙏

“ This is a tough one.... I went from having an extra Father figure as a young teen to a good friend as an adult.... I'm so glad you were a part of my life. Thank you for the random phone calls to see how I'm doing and always reminding me not to be a stranger but understanding how busy life gets. I do have deep regret for not making more time to visit with you as I got older.... I will forever cherish our memories and all of our long talks and laughs. Thank you for that jewelry box you gave me years ago when we were going through you things. It's still on my nightstand. But most of all... I could never thank you enough for bringing my forever Best friend into this world. Although I am heartbroken that I will never get a chance to see you again here on earth, I know we will meet again someday in Heaven. Rest in peace my Friend. ❤️

“ Papaw. I love you and always have loved you and I'm so so sorry I didn't try harder to be apart of your life. I have much regret in my heart, I can only pray that god will bring you to me in my dreams and I can express my feelings. I am happy you are no longer in pain and are in heaven now but my heart breaks knowing that I will never get to see you again. The last time I seen you we shared a few I loved you'd and goodbye. And if I were to know that was the last time I would've gotten to see your face and hear your voice I would've held onto you much longer. May we meet again 🙏 your first mija Raven.

“m beyond broken right now Dad. I know that's selfish of me but I can't help it. I want you back so I can hug you one more time and tell you that I love you just for you to reply with, "that's what they say". I miss you so so much already and it's just the beginning. Who is gonna call the TJ's and trash talk them every time the Cowboys lose a game? You were such a pain in my butt but you were my pain. We had a long hard journey these last few years but I wouldn't change even a second of it. We made beautiful memories and had such a special (very crazy and different) bond than most father and daughters would normally have and I will forever treasure the time we had. You were loved by so many Dad, I know you knew that. I find comfort in knowing you are no longer suffering but man does it still hurt knowing I have to continue in a world without you.. Until we meet again Daddy-O! Nin-Chris-Amanda Michelle (he never got my name right. Always had to go through the other two before he got to mine)

P.S. I took the the dye hoodie you said I couldn't have the last time I was over your house and believe it or not, the Patriots blanket that you always thought was so funny to rub in the TJ's faces. I love you more Daddy-O

I have been praying for your precious Dad every day since I met him several months ago. I know this is a very great loss for your wonderful family. We love you all. Love and prayers—Pollard and Cindy Mercer

I remember working at ArcelorMittal with your dad. He would come to see me for vacation days/schedule changes/etc & we grew a friendship. I went to another department & he would stop and see me every now and then. I'm so glad we stayed in touch after he retired. He was a great guy and I'm going to miss him. I'm sending prayers to you and your family. I know I haven't met you all in person but your dad talked about his kids and grandkids all the time to me. I know he was proud of you all. - Crystal
